Brenda Snow Bride Of McLemore

Mrs. G. A. Snow, 14th Street, announced the wedding of her daughter, Brenda, to Billy McLemore, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Mc-able ring ceremony was held Saturday evening, Oct. 24, at 7:30 with Dr. J. J. McLemore officiating at his home on field road.

Bride chose for her wedding dress a white tulle with white accessories. Her bridesmaids wore white dresses with white accessories.

Officiating was Miss Rogina, who wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. Her bridesmaids wore white dresses with white accessories.

Best man was Morris Hadden, Gallatin, served as Mr. McLemore's best man.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom were taken to a nearby state for one appearance later this week.

The speech tonight is expected to follow the pattern of last week's San Francisco and Chicago speeches in which Eisenhower attacked Democratic "radicals" and called for election of a GOP Congress to "furnish" corrupt labor unions.

Alcorn said Sunday the voters know that only the GOP can keep the peace. But at Elizabethton, N. J., Chairman Theodore Francis Green D - R. I. of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee attacked administration foreign policy.

Green told a Democratic dinner the Eisenhower foreign policy "seeks to appease everybody, please nobody and ends up by accomplishing nothing."

After his Pittsburgh speech, Eisenhower flies tonight to New York where he remains until Wednesday. He is booked for a non-political speech at the National Football Foundation dinner on Tuesday night, but White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the New York stay would include some political activity.

This two-day trip was expected to be Eisenhower's last in the 1958 campaign. It was understood however he might pop up again in the campaign.

Nixon was starting the day at Minneapolis, Minn., in a state where GOP Sen. Edward J. Thye responded with "significant and sustained" lowering of blood pressure.

The physicians said however that further clinical tests must be made before the drug's lasting value in treatment of hypertension can be known.

Gabor family to be reunited

VIENNA UPI — Zsa Zsa Gabor files here Wednesday from Rome and Mama Jolie arrives Tuesday to join sisters Magda and Eva in the first reunion with the girls' father, Vilmos Gabor, in 14 years.

Gabor, 74, a well-known Budapest jewelry store owner before World War II, received special permission from the Communist government of Hungary to travel here by train for the reunion.

He was given permission to remain away eight days.

Magda and Eva flew in direct from New York Sunday and proceeded to the Hotel Sacher to meet their father.

The mothers and three daughters left their father behind in Budapest when they went out into the world to seek their fortunes. One or two have seen him since but not the whole family at once.

"We never even think of going back to Hungary," Magda said. "We love America."

Local Worm Ranch To Receive Writeup In International Earthworm Directory Soon

Votis Sanderson's worm ranch will receive a writeup in an International Earthworm Directory, according to a letter he received from Earl B. Shields, publisher of the directory. Shields is considered the outstanding authority on earthworms in the nation.

At the present time a national directory is published with 1600 growers listed. Four of these growers are in Calloway County.

Mr. Shields was particularly interested in the serve-yourself system which was used by Mr. Sanderson for several years.

This unique system involved a stand in Mr. Sanderson's front yard on West Main Street which carried the sign Red Worms, Serve Yourself. During the more than three years that this serve-yourself stand was used, Mr. Sanderson said that only four boxes of worms were taken without leaving the money. He said that he knows that children took two of the boxes.

"This testifies to the fact that people are fundamentally honest," Mr. Sanderson said.

During this time Mr. Sanderson said that he met and talked with people from twenty three states who stopped to make purchases from the box in his yard. He started several years ago in the worm business in a small way, but now the sideline has turned into a profitable hobby.

Mr. Sanderson works at the Murray Manufacturing Company and most of his spare time is used in pursuing the hobby of raising red worms.

He has read a number of books on the subject and has come to be quite an authority on worms himself.

He has several pits in his back yard made of concrete blocks filled with the fairly short and fat worms. They consume 200 pounds of grain feed each week. He does not feed any food containing meat, although worms will also consume this, in order to hold down odor.

The worms themselves are the main product for sale, however there are other byproducts which are sold. The eggs are sold, as is the spawn. Another byproduct is the fertilizer which is generated by the thousands of worms.

This potent plant food feels for about 90¢ a quart. It is all plant food, very rich and will burn plants as some commercial fertilizers do.

Annual sales of earthworms are between one-fourth and one-half million.

Mr. Sanderson says the red worm is all meat and does not contain the high moisture content of the common earth worm. This makes the red worm a better bait for fishing, he continued.

The worms stay in the pits but some "doing" is required to accomplish this, he says.

Worms, by nature are nocturnal. They remain under the ground during the daylight hours and come out only at night.

If the lights go out at night, the worms start tumbling out in no time and quick work is required on his part to get some right on the pits to make them return underground.

Raising worms is no easy job, as Mr. Sanderson said. It could easily be a full time job with much physical effort involved. Regardless of the effort however, the raising of worms is enjoyable both as a hobby and as a business he said.

In the near future, he plans to transfer the entire worm ranch to his farm which is located east of Murray.

Weather
Report

Kentucky Weather Synopsis
A deep upper level low-pressure area which formed in the northern Rocky mountains last Monday moved to the Dakotas where it came to a dead stop and remained two days. But then moved east into Michigan, resulting in clear weather Friday, and finally moved back westward again over the weekend. Early today, the low pressure area appears to be centered over New England, but extends westward to the Dakotas. Temperatures are remarkably uniform over the nation, east of the Rockies. At Birmingham, N. D., at midnight, it is 40. Oklahoma City registered 48. Birmingham, Ala. 48 and Richmond, Maine, 40.

There is an area of clear skies over southern Missouri, Arkansas and western Tennessee. Most of the rest of the country is cloudy with rain reported in Texas, Indiana, Ohio, northern Kentucky and New York.

Regional Forecast:
Western Kentucky — Partly cloudy to cloudy and a little warmer today, high 55 to 60. Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, not much change in temperatures. Low tonight 40 to 45, high Tuesday 55.

Tobacco Curing Advisory:
Curing weather was favorable over the western third of Kentucky over the weekend and poor over the eastern two thirds. Rainfall was mostly less than one hundredth inch, except at Covington and Louisville, where .13 and .05 inch, respectively, were reported Sunday. Little change is expected today or Tuesday, with poor curing weather continuing through the eastern half of Kentucky including the Blue Grass. Farmers not stripping tobacco are advised to light fires tonight if the leaf is in high case by afternoon. Experiments undertaken at the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Kentucky show that even well-cured tobacco can darken in develop house burn if exposed to protected periods of high humidity.

Fort Mackinac on Mackinac Island between Michigan's two great lakes was used by the British in 1780 in their battle to retain America and again in the war of 1812.

OTTAWA EXPLOSION — In a mysterious, shattering blast of unknown origin, downtown Ottawa Theatre was reduced to rubble, leaving a scene reminiscent of wartime blitz bombings. Early reports indicate that there were no deaths, but 35 persons were reported injured. Only the relative quiet of Saturday downtown Ottawa prevented greater casualties. Residents for a radius of a mile reported shattered windows as a result of the blast.

Five Drunks Are Arrested; Firemen
Make One Call

The Murray Police Department reported this morning that homecoming weekend in Murray was exceptionally quiet. According to Police Chief Charlie Marr, five persons were arrested for drunkenness. These arrests were the only action taken by the department during the weekend other than routine business.

One call was answered by the local fire department. About 6:15 Saturday evening firemen were called to 2015 North 17th Street to extinguish a fire caused by a furnace, according to a spokesman. Only slight damage was reported.

Participation Of Legislators Urged
In Budget Planning

KENTUCKY LAKE STATE PARK (UPI) — State Rep. Gilbert W. Kingsbury, a Fort Mitchell Democrat, urged here Sunday that the General Assembly be given an increased role in planning state budgets.

Speaking to members of the Kentucky Building, Savings and Loan League, the Kenton County legislator suggested two plans which could cut down on the waste and give legislators a greater knowledge of appropriations in budget bills.

The governor, Kingsbury said, could name committees of legislators to go over Executive Department requests prior to the convening of the General Assembly. Or, he added, a special session could be called to devote its attention solely to state finances.

Kingsbury said under the present system, a budget-Bill is jammed through in the shortest time possible and "every effort is made to cut off questions and discussion."

"This method leads to vote trading and many legislators, anxious to do a good job, are denied information needed to perform their duties," he declared.

Bishop Watkins To Speak Near Here

Bishop William T. Watkins, Louisville, Ky., will speak at dedicatory ceremonies for Manley's Chapel Methodist Church in Henry County near here, on November 2.

A historic church, Manley's Chapel was founded in 1882, one year before Paris was organized. Soon thereafter, it was the nucleus for the first circuit of churches organized in what is now the Methodist Memphis Conference.

Today the conference includes 540 churches with a membership of 119,000.

Rev. S. W. Peoples, a former minister of Manley's Chapel, described in a 1918 letter how the church became a center for annual camp meetings. Some 4,000 persons were converted at the meetings, and more than 300 entered the ministry as a result, he wrote.

When Manley's Chapel was organized its minister, the Rev. John Manley, could earn only $80 per year. That was the limit imposed on ministers by a ruling of the presiding bishop, Francis Asbury.

Rev. Coy Garrett is pastor of the church.

Impressive Results
Announced With
New Heart Drug

WASHINGTON UPI — The National Heart Institute today announced "impressive" results with a new drug for lowering blood pressure.

It said research physicians of the institute have found that the drug, known as JB 516, "produces marked and sustained lowering of blood pressure in patients with hypertension." Hypertension is the medical name for the disease commonly known as high blood pressure, one of the nation's leading causes of death.

The research physicians are Drs. Louis Gillespie Jr., Luther L. Terry and Albert Sjoerdma. They presented a formal paper on their research today before a scientific session of the American Heart Association at San Francisco. The findings were simultaneously made public here by the institute, a branch of the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md.

The physicians reported that JB 516 does not seem to produce some of the undesirable side effects of drugs now in use. These side effects include sexual impotence, dry mouth and constipation.

In some patients JB 516 has produced a unique side effect of its own-temporary color blindness. This condition has disappeared upon withdrawal of the drug.

It has been administered to date to 21 patients, of whom 19 responded with "significant and sustained" lowering of blood pressure.

The physicians said however that further clinical tests must be made before the drug's lasting value in treatment of hypertension can be known.

1958 Political Campaign
Swings Into Final Week

By RAYMOND LAHR

United Press International

WASHINGTON UPI — The 1958 political campaign swung into its final week today with President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon booked into critical states where Republican candidates are in trouble.

Both Nixon and GOP Chairman Meade Alcorn claimed improved Republican prospects and scoffed at polls indicating Democrats will increase their congressional majority. Democrats liked what the polls showed and believed them.

The President planned to leave the capital in mid-afternoon to begin the eastern phase of his two-round campaign fight. Prospects were he would continue throwing the same kind of "talk tough" punches that have had Republicans cheering since his Western tour last week.

After an airport speech late today at Charleston, W. Va., Eisenhower speaks from Pittsburgh, tonight over an 18 state television network. The GOP is trying to save two U. S. Senate seats they now hold in West Virginia and another in Pennsylvania in the voting Nov. 4.

Nixon, in Minnesota, was starting the day at Minneapolis, Minn., in a state where GOP Sen. Edward J. Thye responded with "significant and sustained" lowering of blood pressure.

The physicians said however that further clinical tests must be made before the drug's lasting value in treatment of hypertension can be known.

More Than Nine Million People Own Stock In The Nation's Businesses; More Expected

By JACK V. FOJ

NEW YORK, UPI — On the floor of the New York Stock Exchange one day last week brokers scurried for trading posts as the market boomed to its fastest pace since President Eisenhower suffered his heart attack three years ago.

Members are lined up if they run. But they have developed the swiftest heel-and-toe shuffle outside the Olympic Games and the casual visitor stood in danger of being knocked over by the back to the paper-littered floor.

The exchange floors on the comparison but to the uninitiated the atmosphere that day, was Belmont Race Track just before the parimutuel window closed. Then, just 15 seconds before the 3:30 p.m. closing, a member began gleefully pounding on a gong. Then silence.

Members looked at one another, asked, "What happened?" Did the market go up or down? Tick-ers were 15 minutes behind so for its difference, not its similarity, was some time before they got the answer. The industrial average had dropped sharply by more than 4 points.

To Outer Space
But by the end of the week, the market had recovered and was heading again toward what one worried banker termed "outer space," just as it has been heading for the past 10 years—with a slight nod to the recession.

The 5,100,000-share flurry was of interest far outside Wall Street. More than 9 million individual Americans now directly own stock in the nation's businesses and they are coming in at the rate of 500,000 more a year.

It is what Stock Exchange president G. Keith Funston calls "people's capitalism." Funston confidently expects there will be 12.5 million share owners by 1965 and 20 million not too much later.

He base of corporate ownership is our best answer to Communism in competitive co-existence. "Some people think the 'common man' Americans should stay out of the market," Funston said. "Well, I think the common people have been demonstrated smarter than they are given credit for. When our nation was founded, there were those who thought the right to vote should not be open to all."

Different From '29
The question that Funston and his colleagues get unendingly is this—Is the stock market again on the brink of a crash like 1929? Are inflation and this new onrush of investors—not only individuals but pension funds, labor unions, insurance companies—pushing stock prices to unrealistic heights?

Funston is careful not to say it can't happen again. "I can't happen again," Funston's reply is that the stock market of 1929 is notable for its difference, not its similarity, with the market just before the great depression.

One statistical comparison illustrates it best. In the year 1929, the turnover of stocks bought and sold was 119 per cent of all the shares listed. These were the days when people were in and out—the elevator operator gambling and making a fast buck the big plunger, a fast million.

This year the turnover ratio will be only 14 per cent. People patiently are in the market for the long-range investment. Even during the recession slump of market prices, surveys showed no panic to sell.

The most striking safeguard against such gambling is the "margin" requirement raised on Federal Reserve order. In the year 1929, it was possible to buy stock on margin with only $100 of his own money and buy stock worth $1,000. He could "buy" the rest on margin.

HAWKEYES SURPRISE WILDCATS, 26-20—Iowa halfback Ray Jauch (46) scampering off tackle for three yards in the first period as Northwestern tackle Gene Gossage (72) and guard Pete Arena (73) close in. The run was part of the Hawkeyes' first touchdown march that gave the undefeated Iowa the victory over Northwestern, who until now had been unbeaten and untied for the season. The victory assured the Hawkeyes of the Big Ten's top spot. All-American Randy Duncan fired three passes to propel the surprised Northwestern Wildcats.

ARMY AND PITTSBURGH DEADLOCK AT 14-14 — Dick Haley off RT carries the ball from Pitt 42 to Pitt 45 yard line in first quarter. Haley was downed by Francis Gibson (16), Bob Anderson (21) and Maurice Hilliard (77) of Army. Haley figured in the final deciding score during the third quarter with a 2-point conversion pass to Haley by quarterback Ivan Tonic, after Pitt's second touchdown of the game.

Tech Eagles Edge M. S. Collge In 26th. Homecoming Saturday 25th

The Tennessee Tech Golden Eagles concluded a 92 yard drive in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter and circled left for the two point conversion to spoil Murray State's Homecoming 14-14 Saturday night in Cuthbert Stadium.

The Breds, playing before a capacity plus crowd of 6500, jumped into a 14-0 lead in the third period and should have scored at least two other times. Murray drove to the one in the first quarter only to see the Tech line hold on three plays inside the five.

After Tech's second touchdown the Racers marched to the Eagles 12 but an intercepted pass stopped the threat.

After the opening kickoff by Murray, which started the 28 Murray Homecoming, Tech ran two plays and fumbled and it was recovered by Murray end Jim Barton on the Eagle 32. Murray moved to the 15 but a fumble stopped the charge.

The Tennesseans marched to the 33 and punted where Murray took over on their own 41. It took the Breds 12 plays to rest on the Tech seven with a first down. After that Corky Carman picked up two, and Ronnie Babb four to the one. Jack Morris, who was the Breds offensive star with 96 yards in 12 carries, lost one and the best Carman could do on fourth down was bull to the one.

Murray's first touchdown came with 9:35 to go in the second quarter. Bill Taylor, the Breds center, recovered a fumble on the Tech 34 and the Racers were off and running. Dick Vincek and Morris dashed for a first down on the 19 and a 15 yard penalty moved to the three. Quarterback Wade Harper then scored and Murray led 6-0. Harper also added the two point conversion on a sneak around left end and Murray carried an 8-0 lead to the dressing room at the end of the half.

The Racers scored again the first time they got their hands on the ball in the second half. Taking over on their own 36, Carman accounted for three yards and Babb five. With third down and two to go Morris plunged into the line and appeared to be stopped five yards deep in the Tech backfield but broke loose and set out for the Tech goal line with only one yard in his waist. Just as the Tech man was starting to make his bid for Morris on the 10, Carman cut him down with a beautiful block and Morris was in the clear.

Harper's attempt to run over the conversion failed so Murray led 44-0 with 10:50 to go in the third quarter.

Five minutes later Murray was forced deep into their own territory by a Tech punt to the four. On fourth down Murray punted but only to their own 27 where Tech took over. Seven plays later the score was 14-8 and after the conversion which was kicked, Tech trailed by only seven points.

In the closing minutes of the third period, Tech was put deep in a hole with a 15 yard penalty which set the ball on their own eight yard line. Three plays gave the Eagles a first down on the 28 as the quarter ended. However, the change of direction did not confuse the Eagles as it took them only five plays to score their second touchdown.

On the all-important conversion they chose to go for the victory and not the tie and ran over the two pointer on a pitch-out around end.

Murray took the next kickoff and marched 55 yards only to loose the ball on a fumble on the Tech 22. However, one Tech's first play they fumbled and Jimmy Chapman recovered for the Breds. Murray picked up a first down on the 14 but on third and eight a Murray pass was intercepted and all hope for a

Murray rally was lost.

CONSULT FAMILY ON COLORED APPLIANCES

AMES, Iowa UPI — Be choosy when buying a major appliance in color says a home management specialist. Kitchen appliances get 12 to 15 years of use, so the color must be one the family can "live with," said Naomi Shank, of Iowa State College. Colors should be chosen to harmonize with counter tops, floor, and walls. Never choose a color without consulting the rest of the family she added.

Women's Society of Christian Service First Methodist Church WEEK OF PRAYER OCTOBER 25-31

MONDAY. The years of full-time paid employment come to an end. What then? Our offering will supplement inadequate funds from which deaconess pensions are paid. Some of our retired workers will live in rest homes, some with friends. All will gladly render volunteer service as their strength permits.

DEAR LOVER OF ALL AGES, may the years of limited physical strength be happy ones for our deaconesses because our offering helps make possible the use of skills in volunteer service, and comforts when rest is necessary. Amen.

VERSATILE! This straight-line chemise coat is just-right for everyday or dress-up. The fine wool broadcloth is set off by matching velvet collar and bow-tied hip-length gored look never, topped by pocket flaps. An ideal coat for a young miss' wardrobe.
